

LAUNCH CANDY SALE . . . Mayor Albert Isen bought the first bar of World's Finest Chocolate to be sold by Torrance High ASB President Alan Brown as the school launched a candy sale here Monday. Witnessing the transaction is Dr. Carl Ahee, Torrance High principal. The candy sale, which will continue through next Tuesday, will provide funds for school blazers, video playback equipment and drill team sweaters. All Torrance High students will have candy bars for sale during the week.

Candy Sale Under Way At School

Torrance High students began ringing doorbells and standing on street corners Monday afternoon as the school launched a candy sale to raise funds for its athletic teams and pep squad.

Students will offer half-pound bars of the World's Finest Chocolate for 50 cents each. The sale will continue through next Tuesday, according to Alan Brown, student body president.

Funds raised during the sale will be used to buy new maroon blazers for athletic teams, video tape equipment, and sweaters for the school drill team. Students hope to raise $5,000 during the week-long sale.

The student who sells the most candy will receive a stereo pack for his car and other salesmen will compete for a transistor radio and cash prizes. The class with the highest total sales will receive $50 and each member of that class will compete for a trip to Catalina.

proposals should be evaluated.

John Kirkpatrick, speaking for the Torrance City Employees Association, asked that the reports be sent directly to a council committee so employee representatives could discuss the proposals with the committee.

HE ALSO TOLD councilmen the issue of fringe benefits should be settled prior to the first of the year so they will not be confused with wage negotiations.

In related matters, the council authorized a salary survey of some 10 other cities. Data from the survey will be used in developing the city's own proposals for wage increases next year.

The council also voted to hire the firm of Coates, Herfurth, and England to conduct a survey of the States Employees Retirement program. The survey is required by law every four years to determine if employee and employer contributions to the program are adequate.

$360,000 for a manufacturing facility; and Kenneth E. Watts, $50,030.

WEAVER ALSO announced three new industries for the Central Manufacturing District.

August Industries is now occupying a 26,000 square foot manufacturing facility at 620 Maple St. The firm produces rubber and plastic sporting goods and is expected to employ 25 persons. Thomas W. Miller III is president.

Ivers-Lee Western Co., Inc., formerly based in Los Angeles, plans to be in production by early October in their new 20,000 square foot production facility at 455 Maple St. The firm engages in flexible unit packaging and will employ approximately 40 persons. Carl Schneider is general manager of the facility.

National Cash Register will before the end of the year occupy a 72,000 square foot manufacturing plant on Alaska Avenue.

AT TORRANCE Municipal Airport, National Aeronautical Corp. has leased the property formerly used by Mayflower Trailer Co. occupying the 27,000 square feet of buildings will be three divisions of the firm—Britain Industries, Inc., Air Control Division, and elements of Avionics Division. More than 300 persons will be employed at the complex. Britain Industries plans to transfer its operations from Hawthorne to the airport in November.

The 28-acre industrial facility on Monterey St. formerly owned by R. C. Mahon Co., has been purchased by the A. J. Bayer Co. of Huntington Park.

Bayer plans to relocate its operations in Torrance during a phase-in period of one year. The plant will fabricate formed metal products, conveyors and material handling equipment, and architectural metal, letters and plaques.

Car stereos and tapes are making a big play for thieves this week as two persons reported the thefts of stereos and tapes from their cars to Harbor Division police this week with a value of $302.45.

Richard D. McFerren, 825 West 1 Street, and Dennis Barnes, 24415 Avalon Blvd., reported thefts of stereos from their parked vehicles during the night of Sept. 28. McFerren placed his loss at $149.95 while Barnes estimated his at $152.50.

School Bonds Cheapest Program, Trustee Says

School bonds remain the cheapest way to finance new classrooms, Mrs. Kenneth E. Watts of the Torrance Board of Education said Monday.

Mrs. Watts said taxpayers in Torrance would face the prospect of "double taxation" if a $9 million school bond issue on the Nov. 8 ballot fails to win approval.

Under current state law, the Torrance board could raise taxes by as much as 70 cents per $100 assessed valuation to finance a "pay-as-you-go" building program if the bonds fail. She explained that such a move would put taxpayers in the position of paying for new buildings at the same time as they are paying off the bonds which were sold to finance many of the classrooms now in use.

WHEN BONDS are sold, construction costs are financed over a 20-year period and future generations—who will be using those classrooms — pay for a share of the costs.

Passage of the bond issue will not raise school taxes, Mrs. Watts said, because the school district is bonded to capacity at the present time. It will, she said, merely extend the current tax rate for a few more years.

MEMBERS OF the board renewed their pleas for approval of the bond issue Monday during a meeting at South High School. Six elementary schools now have students on double sessions and other schools may be forced to go on double sessions next year if the building program falls behind, trustees said.

Trustee Bert M. Lynn told the group he could state his position in two sentences: "I'm a very penurious individual — that means tight," Lynn said. "I'm voting for the bond issue."
